DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I claim(s) 1-3, 7-10, 12-22, and 24-27 drawn to a gene of SEQ ID NO:1 encoding a protein of SEQ ID NO:2, a vector comprising said sequence, a host cell and method for inducing differentiation, shoot formation, and branching in a plant.

Group II claim(s) 4-6 drawn to a gene of SEQ ID NO:3 encoding a protein of SEQ ID NO:4.

Group III claim(s) 11, and 23 drawn to a protein.

The claims are not linked by a single special technical feature because the invention of Group I does not constitute an advance over the prior art. Group I is taught by Janssen et al (1998, Plant Physiol. 117:771-786) who teach DNA sequences encoding a homeodomain containing protein used to alter the development of plants. Hence, there is no special technical feature that links the DNA sequences and methods of inducing differentiation in plants of Group I, to the DNA sequences of Group II, or to the protein of Group III.

Inventions I, II, and III are unrelated to each other nucleotide sequences either encoding different proteins or specifying specific expression patterns are structurally distinct chemical compounds and are unrelated to one another, as are different proteins structurally distinct chemical compounds and unrelated to one another. These sequences are thus deemed to normally constitute independent and distinct inventions within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 121. Absent evidence to the contrary, each such sequence is presumed to represent an independent and distinct invention, subject to a restriction requirement pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 121 and 37 CFR 1.141 et seq (see MPEP 803.04 and 2434). This requirement is not to be construed as a requirement for an election of species, since each nucleotide and amino acid sequence is not a member of a single genus of invention, but constitutes an independent and patentably distinct invention.

Furthermore, the proteins of Group III could be made by a process other than the expression of the nucleic acids of Groups I and II, such as chemical synthesis or purification from natural sources, and the DNA of Groups I and II may be used for a process other than the production of a protein, such as a nucleic acid hybridization. Lastly, DNA and protein differ in composition, structure and function.

Each of Inventions I, II, and III are capable of being separately made, independently used, and the patentability of one does not render the others obvious or unpatentable.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, fields of search, and classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 1638

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
